

Smiles

You know what I like to see? Smiles! Who doesn't love a good, friendly smile? I definitely do! They can really impact your day! There are many types of smiles. Like the I told you so smile, I use that one a lot especially toward my sister! And then there's the time when a teacher says the word partner and you look at your bestie and do the eyebrow smile. Or when you're peacefully laying in your bed and you hear the phone ring at 5:00 saying it's a snow day. Oh, and you can't forget this one, when you reach into your pocket and find a five dollar bill, cha ching! Just when I needed it.

Smiles are not always easy to hide. Like in the middle of a basketball game when you score but you don't want to smile. Or when you're mad at someone and they make you laugh but you don't want to smile because you're still a little bit mad. Also, when you hear your brother getting in trouble for something you did.

I love seeing people smile! But when people don't smile, you know what my job is? To make them smile. Sometimes I tell a joke or... i just smile at them and they usually smile back. BUT, if they don't smile back that just means stay away from me because i'm not in a good mood. When I'm not in a good mood, my friends just smile at me and it always helps me a lot! Smiles can be contagious! They don't just benefit yourself, they could turn someones life around, let me see you smile!